Comparing Folktales

The Princess and the Warrior tells a legend with a love story that explains the creation of two volcanoes near Mexico City. This legend has several similarities to other legends or myths that explain the creation of geographical features like mountains or lakes. It also has similarities to fairy tales like Snow White or Sleeping Beauty. What legends, myths, or fairy tales does T*he Princess and the Warrior* remind you of and how? How is Popoca similar to heroes in other adventure stories and fairy tales, and how is he different? How does Itza compare to other princesses in stories and films that you know? How is Jaguar Claw a villain? How is the ending of The Princess and the Warrior different from most fairy tales?